Vt. Military College To Honor Veterans

Norwich University Plans Ceremony Just Before Veterans Day

NORTHFIELD, Vt. -- The nation's oldest private military academy will be paying tribute to the nation's veterans on the parade ground of its campus in Northfield, Vt. The ceremony will begin at 1:10 p.m. Tuesday at Norwich University. The Norwich community and the school's Corps of Cadets will pay tribute. The Veterans Day holiday is Thursday, Nov. 11. The guest speaker will be John "Jack" Moynihan, the commanding captain of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, which was founded in 1638 and is the oldest chartered military organization in the western hemisphere.

Copyright 2010 by The Associated Press. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed.

Norwich University to honor veterans

The nation's oldest private military academy will pay tribute to the nation's veterans on the parade grounds of its campus in Northfield.

The ceremony will begin at 1:10 p.m. today at Norwich University.

The Norwich community and the school's Corps of Cadets will pay tribute.

Veterans Day is Thursday.

The guest speaker will be John “Jack” Moynihan, the commanding captain of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, which was founded in 1638 and is the oldest chartered military organization in the Western Hemisphere.
NORTHFIELD, Vt.—The nation’s oldest private military academy will be paying tribute to the nation’s veterans on the parade ground of its campus in Northfield, Vt.

The ceremony will begin at 1:10 p.m. Tuesday at Norwich University.

The Norwich community and the school’s Corps of Cadets will pay tribute.

The Veterans Day holiday is Thursday Nov. 11.

The guest speaker will be John "Jack" Moynihan, the commanding captain of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, which was founded in 1638 and is the oldest chartered military organization in the western hemisphere.